The L'etoile Story

Elena's L'Etoile is a legend among London restaurants. A buzzy, glamorous French style brasserie founded on high quality food and warm hospitality. Its doors have been open since 1896, starting out under the Rossi family as a hostel for waiters in Soho, where the food was so good and thus popular for the residents and their colleagues, they decided to open full time as a restaurant in 1904.

From its beginnings in 1896 to present day, our London French restaurant has evolved over many decades to become the venue of choice for generations of actors and celebrities from stage, screen and the worlds of art and literature. The charm of the restaurant has never been solely restricted to the ground floor, with regular parties and receptions held in the 4 beautifully appointed salons above.

Manager's Choice

This is a selection of some of the newer wines on the list and wines that we find particularly delicious and are great value for money.

Pinot Blanc, Trimbach, 2015, Alsace, France £30

From a historic winemaking family, this is fantastic as an aperitif, or with cold meats. Lemony freshness gives way to lengthy minerality.

Are You Game Chardonnay, Fowles Wine, 2013, Victoria, Australia £35

Full bodied, fruity, and with creaminess on the palate, and as for the food, it's as the name suggests...

Condrieu, La Petit Côte, Domaine Cuilleron, 2013, Rhône, France £75

An outstanding wine from a mechanic turned winemaker. Hits all the right notes and is perfect with pork or fish and a creamy sauce.

'The Love Grass' Shiraz, d'Arenberg, 2013, South Australia £55

Fresh and lively, black and red fruits, pepper, clove and cinnamon. Ensure you take a moment to savour this wine.

Merlot, Cannonball, 2014, California, USA £40

Epic. Full bodied, delicious, everything you want in a glass of red. Fruity, spicy and well balanced. Enjoy on its own or with red meats from the grill or braised ox cheeks.

Sparkling

Prosecco 'Stella D'Italia', NV, Italy £28
